

Continuum of Care

The Kangaroo™
Family of Enteral
Feeding Pumps

For the past thirty years, Covidien has offered market leading and innovative Kangaroo feeding pumps. The current Kangaroo platforms continue the tradition of excellence, offering a full spectrum of enteral feeding capabilities including pumps designed to feed and flush, an ambulatory pump for patients on the go, and a standard, dependable, easy-to-use pump.

In addition to providing innovative solutions for all patient populations, Covidien offers a complete nutritional delivery system that provides both engineered controls and a visual indicator to help prevent tubing misconnections.
