

Serving Individuals with Increased Protein Requirements

LiquaCel™ is a superb tasting source of protein that contains 16 grams of protein and 2.5 grams of arginine per 1 oz. LiquaCel™ is the perfect alternative for large volume supplements that are difficult to consume. Two important factors considered when developing this product were the absolute importance of flavor and texture acceptance. This product can be found in nursing homes, dialysis/ bariatric centers, the dermatology field, and the sports nutrition arena. The source of protein in LiquaCel™ is fortified collagen that contains essential and nonessential amino acids required to maintain a healthy immune system.
